The XVth Course

in Laparoscopic Urology

Avoiding, handling and surviving

Scandinavian Academy of Minimal Invasive Surgery (SAMIS) & Institute of Clinical Medicine/Department of Urology Aarhus University Hospital, Skejby Brendstrupsgaardsvej 100, entrance 7, basement, 8200 Aarhus N September 3th – September 5th, 2014

Dear friends and colleagues

It is once again The Scandinavian Academy of Minimally Invasive Surgery (S*A*M*I*S)' pleasure, to invite you to Aarhus to attend the XVth annual practical course in Laparoscopic Urology which, this year, will focus on complications. Laparoscopy is no longer in its infancy, and with its dissemination into the realm of the conventional, it is now time to address some of laparoscopy's unintended consequences, namely complications.

So in addition to the annually well received practical urologic laparoscopic training on pigs, proctoring and training will mainly focus on laparoscopic complications. A renowned and experienced faculty of Scandinavian and European laparoscopists has therefore been assembled to demonstrate, supervise, and lecture on topics that include:

- Patho-physiology of laparoscopy
- Mechanical and technical complications
- Troubleshooting
- Haemorrhage
- Organ specific injury and lesions
- Perioperative complications
- Convert vs. continue

All backed up by real time lab simulated catastrophes and clinical scenarios where possible.

Trainees will also get the chance to brush up on their general urologic laparoscopic skills with regards to black box training, trans / retroperitoneal access to the kidney, ureter, intracorporeal suturing techniques, pyeloplasty, heminephrectomy/partial nephrectomy. The number of participants in the animal lab is limited to 18, with 3 participants per pig.

The course, now in its fifteenth year, is therefore aimed at laparoscopic urologists and laparoscopic paediatric urologists at any level of training as complications are not only specific to the novice but also occur to the expert who becomes more daring and expands his / her territory, pushing the envelope to new limits.

And remember there are two types of surgeons; those who have complications and the liars!

We welcome you to Aarhus.

Faculty

- Mark Sullivan, Oxford, UK
- Christian Brown, London, UK
- Bjørn Edwin, Oslo, NO
- Peter Elfving, Malmö, SE
- Bjarne Kromann, Herlev, DK
- Øyvind Østraat, Aarhus, DK
